

This design is made from a free template from Sketch Free Library.

It is a final work for a University Course «iOS Programming for iPhone» at the Beuth University of Applied Sciences, Summer semester 2018.

This Application is made by Oleksandra Baga. It is a simple and useful application that helps you to cook offer your favourite recipes. We all have plenty dishes that we like to cook and we like their taste. We regularly cook a few selected dishes and just forget that other recipes exist. This application should help you to cook more different dishes that you already enjoyed. Just get an inspiration every day based on the algorithm that suggests you what to cook based on the how long time you have not cooked this dish.
